FOURTEEN DEAD AND HUNDRED INJURED IN COLLISION OF TRAINS

Milk Train Ploughs Into Rear of Passenger Flyer in New York—Motorists Rush Victims to Nearby Hospitals—Wooden Coach Is Demolished by Terrific Impact

BINGHAMTON, N.Y., Sept. 5 (AP).—Fourteen persons were killed and more than 100 injured when a milk train crashed into the rear of the Chicago Flyer, on the Erie Railroad, eastbound, on the outskirts of Binghamton tonight. The passenger train had stopped because a switching crew was working on the main line ahead. Flagman A. C. Morris, of Hornell, who had been sent out to protect the rear of the Chicago-New York passenger train, had affixed torpedoes to the rails.

The milk train, heavily laden, bound from Hornell to Hooker, ploughed into a steel coach at the rear of the flyer. The terrific impact demolished a wooden coach just ahead of the steel car. Most of the dead and injured were taken from the wreckage of the wooden coach. Passengers in the diner up forward were hurled from their seats in a welter of broken dishes. Many of them became hysterical, searching for relatives and friends whom they had left in the rear coaches while they ate.

BOUND FROM CHICAGO
The wreck occurred just east of Binghamton as the flyer, due in Jersey City at 12:45 a.m., Wednesday (E.S.T.) from Chicago, was just leaving the city limits.
The milk train, bound from Hornell to Hooker, was on a siding, and a side track onto the main line brakes screaming but too late to be effective.
Motorists attracted by the crash began piling the victims into some screaming, others unconscious, into their cars and driving for the nearest hospitals.

HOSPITALS OVERTAXED
Hospitals, overtaxed by the sudden emergency, were unable to handle the influx of victims.

CUBAN RULE IS CHANGED AGAIN

Revolutionary Junta Seizes Power by Bloodless Coup—De Cespedes Resigns

(Copyright, 1933, by The Associated Press)
HAVANA, Sept. 5.—The resignation of President Carlos Manuel de Cespedes was turned in tonight as the executive yielded to a revolutionary junta, which seized power through a bloodless coup, took over strategic positions, and ousted army, navy and police heads.

LESS THAN MONTH
Hurriedly summoned back to the palace from an inspection trip following last Friday's hurricane, De Cespedes, in office less than a month following the overthrow of the Gerardo Machado regime, met a revolutionary commission of five, and then announced:

"I have faithfully fulfilled the program of the revolution of the people. Now it is time for them to assume responsibility. The responsibility will be theirs before history."

Four men, reputed to have been members of the Porra, the former strong-arm police organization, were killed by a mob in Santiago as the junta movement spread there.

DEMANDS RESIGNATION
The commission, which had been chosen by the junta of army, navy and police forces to rule the country pending the establishment of an actual "revolutionary" Government, formally demanded that De Cespedes step out.

"We have assumed power and have constituted a Government," said Jose Triunfo, a member of the commission.

Although no fighting was involved in the change of administration, there was considerable disorder.

MOVE IS SEEN AS ASSAULT ON CODE

Ford to Increase Wages—First Step in "Going One Better" to N.R.A. Opposition

DETROIT, Sept. 5 (AP).—An upward revision in wages in the Ford Motor Company, bringing the daily pay for some classes of employees to $1.00 as against a previous $1 minimum, was announced today. It apparently was Henry Ford's first move in "going one better" than the N.R.A. automobile code, from which he is a holdout.

Rumors of the upward revision were confirmed at the Ford offices, although officials said they were not ready to make an announcement pending completion of the wage adjustment, which has been under way several weeks.

The company continues on the five-day week, with employees working eight hours a day.

Airplane Aids Mountaineers

MODERN methods of transportation were employed by ten Vancouver mountaineers recently when they decided to scale Mount Garibaldi's 9,000-foot peak in a day. They arose early, climbed aboard a Canadian Airways twin-engine amphibian, and flew over the mountains to Garibaldi Lake at 4,350 feet. Landing on the lake, the machine taxied to the edge of a glacier, which served as a slipway. The mountaineers unloaded their gear and climbed the frozen surface of the glacier to the peak, making a record ascent. When they returned to the lake eight hours later, their flying boat had returned, and they were whisked back to Vancouver.

FARMERS IN NEED OF AID

Half of Saskatchewan Municipalities Require Government Help

OTTAWA, Sept. 5 (CP).—More than half the municipalities of Saskatchewan, plagued by drought and grasshoppers, will need Government assistance this winter, and fifty-eight of them will be unable to pay any share of the cost, the Dominion Government was told today. Steps are now being taken to reach an agreement between the Dominion and Provincial Governments whereby the extra relief requirements may be met.

Prime Minister R. B. Bennett and the members of his Cabinet received a large delegation from Saskatchewan this afternoon, and spent more than two hours discussing the problem. Mr. Bennett had no statement to make following the conference, but it was reported he had expressed disappointment the Prairie Provinces would require greater assistance than was necessary last year. He promised the sympathetic consideration of the Government.

SAYS SITUATION BAD
Hon. M. A. MacPherson, Attorney-General for Saskatchewan, was spokesman for the delegation, which included both Provincial and Federal members of Parliament. The situation in Southern Saskatchewan was very bad, he said, but he was confident the necessary assistance would be found to enable farmers to weather the crisis.

Seek Recovery of Half Million Paid In Inspection Fees

Fruit and Commission Dealers of Water Street Contemplate Action Against Provincial Government—Counsel Advises Authorities No Right to Make Charge

VANCOUVER, Sept. 5 (CP).—Seventeen leading fruit and commission dealers, of Water Street, are contemplating an interesting action at law against the Provincial Government to recover something like $500,000 paid—they claim wrongfully—for inspection fees on imports over a long period.

Leading dealers admitted today they had consulted legal counsel and contemplated asking a flat from the Government for the right to start suit. Unofficially, from the standpoint of the Government, it is said to be doubtful if a flat will be issued, because, even if the tax were wrongfully collected, the Water Street dealers have presumably charged the amount during a long period of years, back to the ultimate consumer, and there is no way of reimbursing the consumer or the farmer.

GOES FAR BACK
Broadly, the claim is based upon the same proposition which says that the Provincial Government has no right in law to collect a tax on fuel oil. But the tax on imported fruit and vegetables goes back far beyond the present day.

Fruit inspection offices were opened in Vancouver thirty years ago. For a time the service was handled by the Federal Government, but about 1910 a Provincial Government was appointed and a fee was charged for its service. A few months ago a cargo of corn was imported by the Buckenfield Company, was made by Hon. R. L. Mallard, K.C., who is said to have advised the provincial authorities that they had no right whatever in law to make the charge, and that the whole basis of provincial inspection for fees was wrong.

Protest in behalf of the Buckenfield Company was made by Hon. R. L. Mallard, K.C., who is said to have advised the provincial authorities that they had no right whatever in law to make the charge, and that the whole basis of provincial inspection for fees was wrong.

The result was that the Provincial Government decided to discontinue its service. The inspection office is now manned by a staff under Federal direction and no charge is made for inspection, which brings British Columbia into line with the remainder of the Dominion.

WASHINGTON BUSINESS LEADER PASSES AWAY

SEATTLE, Sept. 5 (AP).—Mark E. Reed is dead. He would have been sixty-seven years old in December.

W. S. McQuarrie and H. B. Robertson Appointed as Judges

VANCOUVER, Sept. 5 (CP).—Special dispatch to The Vancouver Province from its Ottawa correspondent says announcement was made there tonight of the appointment of W. S. McQuarrie, K.C., former Member of Parliament for New Westminster, to be a justice of the British Columbia Court of Appeal.
Appointment of H. B. Robertson, K.C., well-known Vancouver barrister, to fill the vacancy on the British Columbia Supreme Court bench, was also announced.

DESTRUCTION THREATENED

Fruit Grower Says He Would Gladly Smash Apple Trees

KELOWNA, Sept. 5 (CP).—Threats of "smashing down the trees" of those who would not come into an agreement were heard at a meeting here today, of Kelowna fruit growers, who asked of the shippers a guarantee of a cent a pound minimum for all apples picked and shipped.

A preliminary meeting, it was decided to present a resolution embodying the demand, "One cent a pound, or on the ground." This would mean, unless the growers were guaranteed one cent a pound, they would leave the apples to rot.

BARELY COVERS COSTS
They claim that this price barely covers costs, and that their returns last year did not equal this amount. The shippers oppose such a guarantee and are endeavoring to get a 100 per cent shippers' pool. They have some 75 per cent of the shippers lined up, and, if successful in getting the remaining 25 per cent, express the belief they could stabilize the price, prevent price-cutting, flooding of Prairie markets by competitive offerings, and thereby secure orderly marketing and better prices.

OPPOSES INDIVIDUALISM
E. J. Chambers, of the Associated Growers, said the present trouble was due to too much individualism, and at present the shippers might just as well be going on the market at $30 a ton instead of $12 and $14.

Suggestions that growers might express their protest by burning the shippers' trucks were offered for the betterment of the industry brought a threat of drastic action from one grower.

A BOLD THREAT
"If they do not come to the agreement, we shall see that they have no apples to ship," he declared. "I, myself, will be willing to go in with the trees. They put me in jail, they will at least keep me, and I am hardly able to do that myself under present conditions."

His statement was met with a loud and not any more kid gloves, he added, and his remarks were loudly applauded.

Hon. J. W. Jones, British Columbia Minister of Finance, was present at the meeting, which was presided over by Thomas Norris, K.C.

Vermont, Regarded as Doubtful State, Gives Big Majority to Repeal of Law

MONTPELIER, Vt., Sept. 5 (AP).—Vermont, long a rock-bound stronghold, today joined the parade of states favoring repeal of the United States prohibition amendment. It was the twenty-fifth consecutive state to record itself in opposition to retention of prohibition in the constitution of the Republic. No state has voted for the amendment.

Regarded until the last as the most doubtful state yet to act, Vermont recorded itself by approximately 2 to 1 for ratification of the Twenty-first Amendment, by which the Eighteenth Amendment would be repealed.

Complete returns from the 248 towns and cities in the state gave for repeal 41,279; against 20,572.

EDINBURG, Texas, Sept. 5 (AP).—Thirty-two known dead, more than fifty injured, and many millions of dollars' damage was the toll of the Gulf hurricane which last night and today laid waste to the rich and populous Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Indefinite and meagre reports from towns in the devastated area told of bodies lying on the highway between the cities.

A newspaperman, who made the trip from Brownsville to McAllen, estimated 200 persons were injured.

R.B. Bennett Given Credit For Inquiry

LONDON, Sept. 5 (CP).—The Daily Mail said today representations by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett of Canada had resulted in decision of the British Government to conduct an inquiry into imports of Russian lumber to the United Kingdom.

The newspaper said it understood Premier Bennett, during discussion with officials of the Board of Trade, had demanded drastic curtailment of supplies of Russian lumber, urging imports of Soviet wood should be limited to half their present volume.

Crash of Plane Takes Eight Lives—High Officers Among Victims of Accident

MOSCOW, Sept. 5 (AP).—Eight persons, three of them leading figures in Soviet Russia's aviation circles, were killed today when their plane crashed to earth south of Podolsk.

The dead: P. Baranoff, assistant commander of heavy industry, who directs Russia's entire aircraft industry; his wife, V. Baranoff; A. Goltzman, chief of the civil fleet, and his assistant, A. Petroff; V. Zarsky, member of the Presidium State Planning Commission; C. Goltzman, director of Moscow airplane works, No. 22; E. Doshan, pilot, and M. Plotnikoff, mechanic.

Cause of the crash was undetermined.

MONTREAL, Sept. 5 (CP).—Fearful guarantees of his personal safety will not hold, Gerardo Machado, deposed president of Cuba, is willing to return to his country to face trial for offences charged against him. "What good is their guarantee of safety to myself, if they cannot protect themselves?" Machado said here today.

Says Advocates of National Banking Plan Confiscation

Quebec Provincial Treasurer Tells Commission Borrowers Would Not Feel Bound to Pay—Oppose Central Bank Scheme Also

QUEBEC, Sept. 5 (CP).—Advocates of a national system of banking "have confiscation in mind as their ultimate goal," the Royal Commission on Banking was told here today by Hon. R. F. Stockwell, Quebec Provincial Treasurer.

Whether they would admit it or not, this was the case, he asserted.

Listing the arguments against nationalized banking, previously suggested in Western Canada, the Quebec Provincial Treasurer insisted a national system would be subject to political influence. Persons borrowing from a national bank, he feared, would not consider themselves bound to pay in the same sense as if borrowing from private individuals.

PRESSURE TOO MUCH
"When the money owed belongs to a government, the pressure for a moratorium that is brought to bear upon politicians is sometimes more than they can withstand," he said.

Presenting his view as personal and not necessarily representing the attitude of the Government, Mr. Stockwell also gave Lord Macmillan and his colleagues arguments against the establishment of a central bank. The cost would be too great, he thought. Provinces which were politically sympathetic to the Federal Government of the day might be favored when it came to the granting of credit and the general operation of this politically-controlled institution, and generally, the present system worked out satisfactorily.

CENTRAL BANK NOT NEEDED
"In a general way the clauses of the Bank Act and the Finance Act can effectively accomplish many of the functions claimed by those who advocate the establishment of a Dominion central bank," Mr. Stockwell said.

The statement of the Provincial Treasurer was one of the features of a brief sitting here during which the commissioners completed the gathering of information in Quebec City and district. Later they left for Montreal, where sittings will open tomorrow.

PENSIONS ACT IS PROCLAIMED

New Government Takes Office in Nova Scotia—Posts Are Abolished

HALIFAX, Sept. 5 (CP).—Less than twelve hours after his inauguration as Nova Scotia's Premier, Hon. Angus L. Macdonald announced tonight his new Cabinet's first order-in-council has been a proclamation bringing into effect the provisions of the Nova Scotia Old Age Pensions Act, passed in 1931.

He disclosed also the Cabinet's first move in Nova Scotia to effect pre-election pledges of economy. Estimated savings of 25,000 annually were effected through abolition of two deputy-ministerial posts—those of agriculture and health—and reduction in the number of liquor commissioners from two to one. In addition, the Cabinet appointed three of its members to a committee to ascertain means of further reducing expenditures of Government.

City's Business

Although stationers always prepare for a rush of business when school opens, the Victoria stationers were somewhat overdone by the deluge of eager youngsters that swept down upon them yesterday.

Stationers' stores in town for the city declared that the volume of business for the first day of school was greater than it had been for many years past.

Not only were the numbers of children buying school books and equipment greater, but they were buying many little items for the room use that they had been going without during the past two or three years. Extra pencils, extra pens, better notebooks and more exercise books, all helped to swell the tide of business and serve as one more indication of improving conditions.

MANN'S CREW WINS TROPHY

Finishes Strong to Cop Flumerfelt Cup in Annual J.B.A.A. Regatta

Staging a great finish, Arnold Mann's senior fours crew won the feature event, the Flumerfelt Cup, at the annual Labor Day regatta held at the Gorge, by nosing out a crew stroked by Brian Tobin. A large holiday crowd lined the banks to witness the races, the majority of which provided plenty of thrills. Shawigan girls won a two-length victory over the J.B.A.A. fair sex, but some revenge was gained when the local oarsmen won from Shawigan in the junior fours by half a length.

After a close start, Mann's crew forged into a slight lead in the main event shortly after crewing into their stride. At Crowbaker's boat-house the winners held a quarter of a length lead, but they were even again as the finishing line came in sight. A burst of speed from then on gave Mann's crew a length victory.

Ian McCann stroked his boat to a fine win in the Daily Colonist novice fours, over one led by Tommy Bishop, by nearly three before and admitted to having replaced them.

The first witness was George Lilley, father of the deceased. He identified his daughter by her personal effects. He said she had last been employed in the Pemberton Building in Victoria, last December. He last saw his daughter at 10:30 p.m., July 13, when she said she was going to Vancouver to look for a job. Mr. Lilley stated she appeared cheerful and in good health at that time.

ACTED STRANGE

Miss Thelma Lilley, sister of the deceased, also identified the clothing and other personal effects. Adding to the testimony of her father, she said that her sister, for several weeks prior to her departure for Vancouver, had been a little strange. She explained the strangeness as being quiet and not wanting to go out.

Sergeant Richard Harvey, of the Provincial Police, testified with regard to helping in the removal of the body, and establishing identity of the girl through repair marks on a wrist watch and clock found among the young woman's personal effects.

A suitcase, he said, was attached to the woman's left wrist, with the same type of wire used for hanging pictures in her bedroom at home.

again, and soon it was tearing away at 100 miles an hour.

The high wind continued until about 10:30 o'clock this morning, when it began to recede. There was rain and water everywhere. It fell in torrents.

DAMAGE TREMENDOUS

Property damage was tremendous. The loss to citrus groves was estimated unofficially at more than $3,000,000. Only the most substantial buildings were standing in Brownsville as the gale blew lesser structures away like chaff. Municipal water and light plants were put out of commission, telegraph and telephone lines were battered to the ground and highways torn up.

The sixty-mile square area presented a grotesque picture as dusk fell. Where water did not cover streets, broken glass from windows littered the thoroughfares. Roofs from homes, hotels and business houses were scattered over all the area. Power lines lay idle on the ground, constituting a menace to those who were able to make their way about. Highways were ripped from one side to the other.

MANY LOTS SOLD IN SAANICH SALE

Thirty-nine parcels of land were sold during the first day of the Saanich tax sale. It was announced yesterday at the Municipal Hall. The sale netted $2,963. There are 307 lots on the market and the sale will continue, this morning at 10 o'clock at Royal Oak.

A large portion of the lots on the list were redeemed two hours before the sale opened. Several extra members of the Saanich municipal staff were required to revise the list in the morning, so many lots were redeemed, in order to start the sale on time.

Twenty-four lots were sold in the morning, bringing in a total of $551. The amount of property sold yesterday is not quite up to the first day of last year's sale, but totals are expected to compare favorably when the 1933 sale concludes towards the end of the week.

carry on through the winter and make a fresh start next spring. Food for distressed families, fodder for stock and seed for next year would have to be provided in 144 municipalities. It was stated, and fifty-eight of these were absolutely bankrupt and unable to contribute any share.

TO STUDY PROBLEM

Arrangements were made for a representative of the Saskatchewan relief commission to lay further information before the Government and the requirements in respect to drought and grasshoppers will be dealt with along with the whole relief problem.

Henry Black, chairman of the Saskatchewan relief commission and former mayor of Regina, graphically described the grasshopper scourge, but advanced reasons for a general belief the plague would not return next year. Drought and grasshopper plagues were almost a new problem to the Western farmer, he said, neither having greatly interfered with the harvest until two or three years ago.

GRASSHOPPER ENEMIES

Appearance of crickets in unprecedented numbers, and of prairie gulls, Mr. Black said, gave rise to the belief that the grasshoppers and their eggs would be destroyed. The gulls had appeared in vast numbers over the insect-ridden areas, and it was said that a gull would eat several times its own weight in grasshoppers in a day. The crickets ate the eggs laid by grasshoppers in the stubble after the crop has been leveled to the roots.

Canada Captures Polo Championship

CALGARY, Sept. 5 (CP).—Led by the hard-riding Glen Gardner, the Calgary polo team has presented this city with its first Western Canada polo crown since 1925 by defeating Lord Strathcona Horse in the final over the week-end. The score was 3 to 1. In the consolation event Kamloops' team defeated High River, 4-1.

The chief gold producing countries in 1932 were South Africa, Canada and the United States.

A complete list of the dead and injured immediately. Some bodies were so severely mangled it may be days before their identities are established.

The engineer of the milk train, dated by the crash, said he did not see the red block warning of the passenger train. He jammed on his brakes as soon as he saw a crash was coming, but it was too late.

Most of those killed were riding in the wooden coach, which was crushed to splinters. The steel construction of the end car, a comparatively new coach, was credited by authorities with having kept the death list from mounting even higher.

Rescue crews encountered difficulty in extricating many of the bodies, pinned under heavy timbers and wedged between steel debris.

One woman was hurled more than fifty feet from the track. She was dead when found.

Most of the other coaches of the passenger train were derailed. The locomotive of the milk train was bounced off the tracks but its crew was not hurt.

EIGHTEEN STABLES DESTROYED BY FIRE AT CHICAGO TRACK

CHICAGO, Sept. 5 (CP).—Eighteen of the twenty-two stables at Hawthorne Race Park were in ruins today and loss of $150,000 was counted following the sudden, disastrous fire which swept the barns Sunday night.

Two racers owned by H. L. Holmes, of St. Louis—Old Belle and Rockaway—were unaccounted for and it is believed they had perished in the flames.

Big Area in China Caves After Quake

SHANGHAI, Sept. 5 (AP).—Chinese dispatches belatedly described today the caving in of an area of 170 square miles in an earthquake in Szechwan Province, Western China.

Reports said part of the mountains along the river crumbled and slid into the stream, changing its course and isolating the area.

BRITISH CABINET STUDIES POLICY

Disarmament Questions Discussed at First Meeting Since Parliament Adjourned in July

LONDON, Sept. 5 (AP).—The Cabinet sat for more than four hours today at No. 10 Downing Street, and it was understood heavy programme, chiefly concerned with questions of foreign policy, was considered.

It was the first meeting since Parliament adjourned in July. Disarmament and other questions likely to be discussed at Geneva occupied much of the time of the ministers, who returned from the country especially for the occasion.

Arrangements were made for conversations to take place in Paris September 18, between the British and French Governments on difficulties that exist regarding the British draft convention on disarmament. The points of outstanding difference were examined by the Cabinet.

The general industrial situation at home also was reviewed.

ANACORTES WIN DOUBLE-HEADER

Taking the forenoon tussle, 4 to 3, and then battling their way to an 8 to 3 victory in the afternoon engagement, Anacortes ball nine captured double-header from the Sons of Canada, league champions, in the exhibition fixtures on Labor Day at the Royal Athletic Park.

The morning game was a thriller, but the visitors had things their own way in the second battle, driving in four runs in the first inning to take a comfortable lead. One feature of the exhibitions was the base running of C. Boulton, Anacortes' shortstop, who pilfered six bases in the both games.

Lloyd Cann and Ollie Olson engaged in a mound duel in the opener. Cann heaved good ball, striking out six and issuing two walks, while Olson had the same number of strikeouts and walks chalked up against him. Driving across runs in the sixth and seventh, the visitors managed to not out the Sons by a lone run.

Getting to Roy Haines for four runs in the first frame, Anacortes coasted to an easy victory in the afternoon game. The Sons sent in Lloyd Jones to succeed Haines and he lasted until the seventh, when Anacortes got to him for three more runs. The Sons scored all their runs in the ninth. Olson again pitched for the visitors.

POLLING TODAY IN S. RHODESIA

Defeat of Government Improbable—Amalgamation Question to Fore

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia, Sept. 5 (CP).—Southern Rhodesia will elect a new parliament tomorrow. Possibility of the defeat of the present administration, under Prime Minister H. U. Moffat, is not considered likely in view of the fact that the Reform and Labor parties failed to reach an election pact, and there will be a number of three-cornered contests.

Seventy-eight nominations for thirty seats have been made. They are distributed as follows: Government or Rhodesian Party, 30; Reform Party, 27; Labor Party, 12; Independents, 9.

LEADING QUESTION

Since the country turned down overtures made by South Africa for a union with that Dominion, the question of amalgamation with Northern Rhodesia has been debated freely, and has been a feature of the campaign just closing. It is advocated by the Rhodesian Party, and has the official support of the Reform Party. The Labor Party fears amalgamation might work against the interest of white workers.

Southern Rhodesia, Britain's newest self-governing colony, has a white population of 50,000, and an electorate of 12,000. The franchise is confined to European British subjects.

The state of the parties at dissolution, was: Rhodesian Party, 18; Reform Party, 7; Labor, 3; Independents, 2.

STYLES—Fleeting and LASTING

The HAT of the Moment

The SLEEVE of the Moment

The SMILE that never Changes

No MATTER how styles change, your fresh and charming smile is always in fashion. Money cannot buy it but a few minutes daily with Ipana Tooth Paste will assure its constancy.

You need Ipana and massage because you eat soft foods that rob your gums of exercise. Your gums get weak and flabby. Unless you are fortunate you probably have "pink tooth brush" with its threat of gingivitis, Vincent's disease or even pyorrhea.

Clean your teeth with Ipana regularly. After each cleaning rub a little extra Ipana into your gums. Leave it there. Ziralto, the toning agent in Ipana, stimulates the gums, invigorates them.

Soon your teeth will be whiter, your gums will be firm again. Continue with Ipana and massage and you can forget "pink tooth brush" and its threat to your charming smile.

CAMP STUDIES ARE DIFFICULT

Representative of Frontier College Is Visitor—Confers With Minister

The Frontier College, which was organized in 1912 for the purpose of carrying educational facilities to the section of the population which makes its home in the various camps of the country, the English heavy task on its hands at the present time in view of the tremendous number who have been thrown into the unemployment camps of Canada.

R. M. Clark, of Toronto, who is supervising the work from Winnipeg to the Pacific, was in the city yesterday on a short visit for the purpose of conferring with Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, Minister of Education, and with the Federal authorities at West Point in connection with the work in hand in British Columbia. When seen before leaving for the Mainland, Mr. Clark said that he had the heartiest co-operation of the departments represented.

The work under the charge of Mr. Clark is not confined to unemployment camps, although at the present time this forms the greater field for operations. The movement is one for which E. W. Bradwin, M.A., Ph.D., the principal, is largely responsible.

SUBJECTS TAUGHT
 There are seven of these camps in British Columbia, and with one exception the instructors are graduates of the University of British Columbia. Classes are formed for the purpose of giving those in the camps the advantages of instruction in various lines. The classes are arranged not to interfere with the regular routine of the camps, and the instruction given stresses a working knowledge of the English language, which is of special importance with regard to new residents who have come from foreign countries. Mathematics are also stressed, while in addition classes are opened in all kinds of lines according to the wishes of the camp dwellers. In the Hope-Princeton camp there are forty taking courses in geology.

The instructors enter into the life of the camp, rendering aid in leadership along such lines. The funds of the Frontier College are raised by private subscriptions and some small grants from some of the governments.

Mr. Clark, who is a graduate of Toronto University, has done service as an instructor himself, and was at Churchill, on the Hudson Bay, at first he did service in the camps under the Department of Railways and Canada, when the department was engaged in the laying out of the port there. Later he was with the camp when the elevator was being erected there.

PREMIER LAYS FALSE RUMORS

"Retirement" Story Without Foundation and Contrary to All Facts

What Premier Tominie calls the "rumor factory" was busy during his absence at the Rainier National Park centenary celebration on Saturday, and occasioned widespread publicity on a report that the Doctor was on the eve of announcing his retirement from the political field. On his return to the office, yesterday, he was a retired coal miner and is survived by his widow and a son, Dr. Watson Dykes, of Vancouver, and a daughter living in United States. The funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon.

IS NOT RETIRING
 "Who would start such an abominable lie?" the Premier asked, yesterday, in comment on the report. "Every word of it is a lie. Show me one man who has been called at a meeting with me in Saanich. I am not retiring. There has been no meeting of the Saanich Conservative Association called by me, and the whole thing is a lie from start to finish," the Premier declared, with heat.

Contrary to any thought of retirement, the Premier let it be known that he is busy about plans for the election, and will shortly hold a get-together of his own supporters in Saanich, to draft plans for his personal campaign as Unionist candidate in that riding. Up to the present, however, he said he had taken no steps to that end.

Narrowly Escapes Serious Injuries

George Sharp, welder for the B.C. Electric Railway Company, narrowly escaped serious injuries late Monday night, when a car proceeding west on Esquimalt Road collided with the welder generating wagon and sent it along the roadway. The generator stopped on top of Mr. Sharp. Warning lights were burning at the time, and H. Phipps, 1318 Balmoral Road, a fellow employee, was waving a flashlight as warning. Mr. Sharp was lying across the tracks welding when the accident occurred. He was not hurt.

SPENCERS WIN DAHLIA AWARD

Gain First Prize for Window Display as Part of Dahlia Week Contest

David Spencer's Ltd., was awarded first prize for the best window display of dahlias, yesterday, when judging was completed as Victoria's first annual Dahlia Week, staged by the Victoria Dahlia Society, got under way. Basket display of large flowered dahlias was won by A. Hagart for his dowers, showing in Kingham-Gillespie's window. Miniature and pom-pom displays in baskets were won by M. O. Mayhew for his display in Fletcher's store window. Fred Saunders, head gardener at the Empress Hotel, was the judge.

Spencer's window presents a riot of color. Large dahlias of the cactus and ordinary type, are arranged in attractive style in contrasting colored baskets. Below the bigger flowers, several baskets of miniature and pom-pom displays are placed to blend with and yet rival the bigger blooms, in color. The whole setting is a background of black, which makes the display stand out wonderfully.

J. Bennett's display in Angus Campbell's window, which took the second award in the window display contest, is also arranged attractively. A huge basket of yellow dahlias, in the black container, stands in the centre of the window, and the display tapers down to the floor with flowers of all colors filling the window. The foreground is taken up with pom-poms and miniatures.

The complete prize list follows: Window display, 1. David Spencer, Ltd.; 2. J. Bennett; 3. Mrs. Bruce, in the Victoria Floral Company window; baskets, large flowered, 1. A. Hagart; 2. M. O. Mayhew; 3. G. Smethurst; baskets, miniature and pom-poms, 1. and 2. M. O. Mayhew; 3. G. Smethurst.

The display will continue all through the week, and many more stores are planning displays for their windows.

DIED AT NANAIMO

NANAIMO, Sept. 5.—Joseph Dykes, native of England, and resident of Nanaimo and British Columbia for forty-five years, died at his home of his daughter, Mrs. Michael Wilkinson, Kennedy Street, Sunday afternoon. SCHOOLS OPEN AFTER HOLIDAY

Nearly 10,000 Students Return Following Two Months' Vacation

Approximately 10,000 students returned to school yesterday, after enjoying two perfect months of summer weather and vacation. In the elementary schools, the day was occupied in transferring pupils from the lower to the higher grades. Many of the children came home with the cheerful news that they had skipped a division.

At high school "preps" were somewhat bewildered until they were registered and then, took the afternoon off to purchase their books for their first term in high school. Today, however, studies will begin in earnest, the hustle and bustle of registering new pupils and securing of school supplies having subsided. It is estimated that between $10,000 and $15,000 was put into circulation in Victoria yesterday, purchases ranging from $1 for the lower grade pupils to as high as $5 for top grade and high school students.

A fire practically destroyed the roof of a dwelling at 88 Dallas Road, Sunday morning, while another roof fire at 311 Raynor Street, the same morning, gave the city fire department a run. A small blaze at the Palace Cafe, Yates Street, also called the department out on Monday.

FALLING TREE KILLS LOGGER

Inquest Into Death of Unidentified Chinese Will Be Held Tonight

An unidentified Chinese was instantly killed in a logging accident at the Joe Kerrone holding on Mount Sicker, near Duncan, late yesterday afternoon, according to Corporal A. D. I. Mustart, of the Provincial Police.

The Chinese had been employed only a day and a half, and was not familiar with the territory. A falling tree crashed down upon him shortly after 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

The remains were taken to Whidden's Funeral Parlor, where the inquest will be held at 8:30 o'clock tonight.

CREDIT SOUGHT FOR INDUSTRIES

Loosening up of the country's credit system so as to set the wheels of industry into motion, is proposed in a resolution from the Kitchener, Ontario, council that has been submitted to the Victoria City Council for approval.

The motion asks that Victoria council urge upon the Federal Government the establishment of a credit system for idle industries. It is pointed out that many industries are idle at present because they have not the capital with which to start the wheels turning, although they have orders on hand. These credits could be arranged through the ordinary banking system with the Federal Government guaranteeing the loan after investigating each application.

Ford V-8 Triumphs IN COMMERCIAL TRANSPORTATION

AMAZES CANADIAN BUSINESS FIRMS WITH ITS ECONOMICAL OPERATION—SOLVES TODAY'S HAULING PROBLEMS

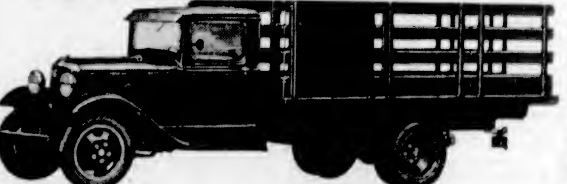

For the first time the performance that can be had only with a V-8 engine has been made available in a low-priced car.

This is the answer to today's hauling problems. Some firms have adopted lighter trucks. They need Ford V-8 power. Others run carry lighter loads and make more trips. They need Ford V-8 speed. Others run fewer trucks, with heavier loads. They need Ford V-8 power and speed and stamina. These things mean a new trend in commercial haulage, met perfectly by Ford V-8 equipment at low cost.

Ford V-8 trucks are not only low in price, but economical to operate and maintain. Their full 80 horsepower costs you nothing when not used; 35 to 45 miles per hour, at which trucks are usually driven, is the V-8's most economical range. This economy is so high as to place Ford V-8 performance within reach of any Canadian truck owner.

The Ford V-8 offers you most for your money, in first cost and running expense. There are two truck chassis, 131½ and 157 inch wheelbase and the commercial car chassis, 112-inch. Bodies meet every transportation need. See your Ford dealer. "The Canadian Truck"

CHIVALRY IN GAMES

There is a harmless but not universally accepted concept that the British people are descended, either directly or circumstantially, from the Lost Ten Tribes of Israel. Be that as it may, the British people are like the Chosen Race in one respect: They are a peculiar people. The most peculiar of the peculiarities of the British people is their love of play. There is nothing on record indicating that the originally Chosen People played games of any kind. That may have been because those people were too busy tending their flocks and herds or trying to exterminate the heathen on the borders of the Holy Land, or so diligent in other forms of business, to indulge in such frivolous things as games. However busy the British people may have been in business or war, they could always find time to play.

So the British people, having inherited no games from their reputed ancestors, and having a deep love of play, invented games as a relief from the boredom of life. Having invented games, the British people proceeded to teach the people of other nations how to play them. But such is human ingratitude, in many cases foreigners began to beat the British people at the games they had invented.

Some of the games the British people invented are now played in most parts of the world, but there is said to be but one game that can be called international. It was two Englishmen who invented baseball and gave it to the United States, but baseball is not an international game. Neither is cricket, although it is played in many parts of the earth with skill and enthusiasm, and appears to be increasing in popularity. Football is gaining in popularity, too, and the voice of the lawn bowler may be heard in many lands; but the only truly international game is said to be golf.

There have been many heroes in war; but in sport there have been idols as well as heroes. In the old days of hand-to-hand conflict in war there also were champions—strong men who performed mighty deeds. Under modern conditions, when the technician and the mechanician have completely altered methods of fighting, there are great captains, but there are no popular heroes. In England, if you want to arouse enthusiasm in the multitude, you do not propose the name of Halg or of Beatty, but the name of Hobbs or of Larwood, champions in the national game. The soldier and the sailor may have saved the country, but the cricketers brought back "The Ashes."

Well, champions have their brief day and are soon forgotten, but the games they played so well appear destined to go on forever. A new golf champion has been crowned in Victoria, and among the crowd which followed the final rounds over the Uplands course were players who could name a dozen former champions who preceded him. Probably the most popular champion of all up to the present time was the late Harvey Combe, who proved invincible year after year because his temperament was quite as invincible as his methodical game. Today there are at least a dozen striplings who could have given old Harvey strokes and beaten him at his best. In the game of golf it is as it is in the game of life—the young may die, the old must die.

There was one lesson to be learned from the tournament finished this week. That lesson is that the spirit of chivalry is not dead. There were some coming champions in the big gallery, and the lesson for them is that temperament goes farther in the making of popularity than skill in play. The personality of the new champion was more to be admired than the length of his drives, the judgment of his approaches or the accuracy of his putts. A player is always conscious of the fact when the sympathy of the crowd is with him, and that feeling seems to nerve his arm and steel his sinews. The gallery at the links sympathized with gallant young Harold, but it hoped good Old Bob would win.

RAILWAYS, BUSINESS AND SENTIMENT

A great deal has been written about a certain class of men called bores. One individual bore is the specially knowing bore who is always wise after the event. A particularly exasperating bore is one who has access to the columns of the newspapers and never gets wrist-weary writing about the mistakes made in building so many railways in Canada. There may be too great a railway mileage in Canada—one main line of railway might easily serve all the purposes for which two or three main lines were built through a considerable part of Canada—but we have never heard it said that there are too many railways in the United States, nor even too many railways in Great Britain. There was a time in almost all countries when there was a virulent fever of railway construction and a violent frenzy of speculation in railway stocks. Today the conditions of transportation are changed, and the railways are suffering from a depression which is not altogether their own fault. The fault which may be legitimately attributed to Canada is that it built too many political railways, lines which were not constructed to attract business but to get votes.

The first transcontinental railway which was constructed in Canada provoked much criticism, but it did not attract votes. The two across-the-country lines whose construction followed were strictly vote-catchers and we had three lines running through an immense territory which could quite as well have been served by one. It is possible that this mistake may be partially remedied by co-operation between the two main lines which remain in business. The initial mistakes made are proving very costly to the taxpayers of Canada, but relatively the cost of the mistake of building a branch line to an ocean port which is open to traffic for about two months in the year, or three months at the most, and of constructing docks there and maintaining them, is going to be very much greater. The sentimental ocean port of Churchill is going to prove a white elephant in the hands of the government if the members of that government have not the courage to resist all further importunities.

UNDER WHICH FLAG

Unemployment in Great Britain has undergone a great reduction during the past year, and there has been very little political ballyhoo about it. Billions of dollars have not been borrowed (and will not have to be paid back). No reconstruction campaign has been started. There has been no price or profit fixing, but prices and the cost of living have not gone up. The days or the hours of labor have not been reduced. The farmer has not been reducing but has been increasing production. In fact, business in Britain is following its normal course, and the prospects are improving. Of course there is still unemployment in Britain—there always has been, and there probably always will be, because there is a large element of the population which is unemployable—but the fact appears to be that unemployment has been reduced to about its normal state.

There are thoughtless political agitators in Canada who point with pride to what the United States is trying to do by revolutionary business methods, and ask why Canada is not doing something of the same kind. The financial situation of this country would not justify the government in borrowing billions of dollars to be expended in purely speculative undertakings such as compensating the farmers for refraining from cropping their land or bonussing unprofitable industries. Great Britain is indulging in no hazardous experiment in economics. Better to follow her example and be safe than to follow in the footsteps of the code-makers of the United States and be sorry.

Two revolutions within the compass of about a week must be almost a world record. That is the achievement of turbulent Cuba. There might be another revolution tomorrow or the next day but for the fact that the military power is in control and the civil power has been overthrown. Latin blood mingled with native blood is what the boys in the street call hot stuff. So-called popular institutions enjoy short popularity in the southern states of America. Considering the political ups and downs in Cuba since the days of the Spanish occupation, we do not wonder that the Spanish rulers found the little island a tough proposition. There seems to be little doubt there are people who need to be governed by strong and determined men.

Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, defeated at the last general election, has at last found a safe seat in the British House of Commons, and the leader of the Labor party is in a position to lead. Mr. Henderson is chairman of the International Disarmament Conference and a sincere advocate of peace, not only in the military sense but in the political and social sense. There is a strong militant and revolutionary element in the Labor or Socialist party, and Mr. Henderson will have to exercise all his powers as a pacifist to maintain peace and unity within his own party.

There is a letter to the Editor in this issue of The Colonist which is worthy of being read and considered. It deals with the state of the Women's Workroom. There are women among the unemployed, and any institution which furnishes useful employment is an asset to the city, for it meets a demand for certain products and relieves the burden on the taxpayers and on the resources of private individuals. It would be little short of a calamity if the workroom should have to be closed for lack of support.

It is but a base, ignominious mind that mounts no higher than a bird can soar.—Shakespeare.

Never let your zeal outrun your charity; the former is but human, the latter is divine.—Bailou.

This also, that I live, I consider a gift of God.—Ovid.

'Slams and Salaams'

(By H.T.M.)

By H.T.M.

Woe—ah woe! The holiday is over. Black woe! The holiday is over. Fat rain-drops quench the gasping embers of our souls. Woe—ah woe! The holiday is over—and a pestilence is upon us! What to do about it? Naught. We're doomed! Dark swoops upon us in a monster cowl that snuffs out the light of the sun with a choking hiss. Help! Help! We're sinking! Madness is upon us. The world has suddenly become one vast, endless creaking cemetery. Ghosts of the dead flip greyly past us. Hollow moans rumble from tomb to tomb. Bats swoop—clawing things creep—owls hoot, low and morbidly.

Hast! What's that? Something rattled. Ah—look! Skeletons! Skeletons! All leaping and creeping, and shrieking and screeching in crazy, bone-white riot! Why? What's wrong with them? Why do they jigger so, in all this deathly merriment? Their levity is dreadful. Their cryptic caperings defy man's understanding. What does it mean?

What...? Ah, of course. At last it dawns. They, too, must have their fun on Labor Day! 'Tis well! 'Tis well! So, permit me, ladies and gentlemen, to explain this torment woe.

THE SKELETONS' HOLIDAY

Pry the coffin open—
Let's get up, and play—
Sick of lying musty.
Here, beneath the clay!

Grab your skulls and eye-bones—
'Don't forget to place faces!—
Rattle ribs and thigh-bones—
Jam them into place!

Dance upon the tombstones—
Jigger at the moon—
Clatter round the crypt, boys—
Cough a honey tune.

Hand in hand, we'll caper—
Creaking at the thighs—
(Hear the black bats scratching
At our hollow eyes).

Pry the coffin open—
Shake the must away—
Skeletons are happy
On a holiday!!! (Whooooee!!!)

What's going to happen? Will the N.I.R.A. succeed, and put America on the pinnacle of prosperity, or will Henry Ford hurtle it to chaotic depths, and thereby put the U.S.A. in a state of perpetual hysteria, instead of only sporadic dementia, as is customary?

Will the C.C.P. grab all the "chairs" at the coming election, or will their voice merely deepen the cataleptic politic roar that is already quite audible in this beautiful but sadly manhandled province?

Does Mussolini still hold Italy in the hollow of his palm, or is his grip slipping? Will the Prince of Wales ever get married?

Is Hitler another "Iron man of history," or is he merely a mixture between Mussolini and Charlie Chaplin?

Will Helen Wills Moody quit tennis? Will be Almee McPherson's next husband?

Does Jack Hulbert's face annoy you? Have you ever seen one, just like that?

Do you like corn on the cob? Can you play the sackbut? Do you call a "dinner jacket" a dinner coat, or a dinner jacket? Don't call it either. Gordon Sinclair would probably call it a "tux"—so let's call it a "dinner jacket," and stay normal!!!

CONVENEANCE OF THANKS

Sir,—May we express, through the columns of your paper, our grateful thanks to the two young men from Discovery Island, who, when we were in the hospital, were so kind as to bring us a letter from you on Saturday, September 2, made every effort to assist us, and, finding it impossible, enlisted the aid of the U.S. Army, and so on.

MR. P. HUBBER AND PARTY.
Sub. P.O. 22, Victoria, B.C., September 3, 1933.

WOMEN'S WORKROOM

Sir,—At a recent meeting of the Women's Workroom, the question of the immediate closing of the workroom was taken up and very seriously considered. Finances were very rapidly disappearing, and the possibility of our being able to continue to carry on seemed doubtful. However, after discussion, the committee came to the decision that the closing of the workroom at this time would be nothing short of a calamity, so after submitting the whole position to the general committee, they decided to make a very valiant effort to keep the room open during the coming winter, which we feel will be a very difficult one for unemployed women.

In the past we have been able to carry on through the kindness of many friends and by the efforts of our own committee in staging entertainments of all sorts. We now feel that efforts in that direction have been exhausted, and have come to the conclusion that we must make an appeal to those who can do so to support us by either monthly subscriptions or cash donations, and that if we can raise our objective which is $750 a month for seven months—that is, until the thirty-first of March next—we can operate the room and make no further requests for financial support.

Our cash statement for the twenty-two months from the opening of the fund on the first of October, 1931, until the thirty-first of July of this year shows that we have handled a total amount of $77,824.84, which has been disbursed as follows: Wages paid to women, $22,922.50; material and equipment (an average of $84.05 a month), $1,846.83; general expenses for twenty-two months, $4,039.96; salaries to supervisor and assistants, $1,800; cash on hand at July 31, 1933, $854.75, making a total of $27,824.84. Since the thirty-first of July our receipts have been very small indeed, and we now find ourselves practically out of funds. The wages show that 114,662 hours of work have been provided and paid for as at thirty-first of July, and since then a further month's employment has been given. We are starting our appeal this week, and very sincerely hope that Victoria will feel that the work we are doing is worthy of support, and that the response will enable us to keep going.

If ten people will give us $25 a month for seven months, twenty people, $10; thirty people, $5, and 150 people, $1, the workroom will carry through the winter, by which time we trust conditions will have so improved that the need of the room will have ceased.

Subscriptions can be sent to Mrs. R. Taylor, honorary treasurer, at 1388 Monterey Avenue, Oak Bay, or left at the office of Messrs. Gillespie, Hart & Co., on Port Street.

Through the kindness of Messrs. D. Spencer, Ltd., a table will be placed in their store from Wednesday until Saturday of this week where donations of any size will be gratefully received by members of our committee.

In closing, may I say that orders of any kind placed with the workroom give the practical help that is worth so very much.

A RURAL SOLOMON

Sir,—Your correspondent, Mr. H. Hastings, has, like Rip Van Winkle, awakened. He finds the world quite different, and cannot understand it. He is not to be blamed for this. Civilization is fast nearing the end of an epoch, and that the dawn of a new era is now faintly discernible and definitely becoming clearer as time goes on.

Before he slept, a year or two ago, his numerous letters to your paper were so overflowing with facts and figures, so brimful of knowledge, that, before commencing to read them I had the same feeling as Mr. Montague Norman, Governor of the Bank of England, when discussing the present international chaos: "I approach the subject, not only in ignorance, but in humility. It is too much for me."

I confess that whilst impressed with his great public exhibition of vast knowledge, I was bewildered at the ineptitude of the Conservatives in power in not giving it greater recognition; say, portfolio of trade or finance. But he is fully awake now. He is quite a different man. He now confesses his great ignorance of subjects which the great mass of people have already learnt, or are learning by bitter experience. Reluctantly I confess great disappointment, and my confidence in him is being strained.

I have now a suspicion that his logical condition is attributable to that noisy and convivial past followed by a heavy sleep. The information he so passionately desires is so easy to obtain. He needs that his wholesome drink to clear his head. Mr. Editor, will you please suggest to him that he visits me here, where the atmosphere is so agreeable and clear, and where he may be informed of the changes taking place, and, Mr. Editor, you may come along, too.

BOOTLESS CONTROVERSY

Sir,—Having studied Spiritism for several years, I smile at Mr. Hamilton's charge that I know nothing about it.

I use the term Spiritism because I cannot conscientiously refer to it as "Spiritualism," which implies something spiritual, i.e., pure or holy. Having in my possession admittances by leading Spiritist authorities of the direct results of Spiritism—which, Mr. Editor, I feel sure you would not care to print—I believe it to be the very antithesis of Christianity.

Can Mr. Hamilton point out one single instance where Spiritism agrees with the Christian faith as expounded by Christ or His disciples and give the Biblical reference to the contrary? I am sure he cannot believe Christ, John 4, 46-47. He also said, "The Scripture cannot be broken." If Spiritism were Christian it would be to Christianity attacking His word. The Bible is an authority on facts which can be proved by the facts of the world. It is simply guessing. If Spiritism were Christian it would believe Christ, not man.

The Lord plainly declares death a sleep in John 11, 11-14. He did not vacillate between two opinions. He spoke with authority. If the parable of Luke xvi, 12-13 is a literal revelation, Spiritism is automatically ruled out.

The speaker admitted his home was mortgaged. Properly so, he said, because he could not have bought it otherwise. Then, he added, he realized the danger to his wife and children should he die before the mortgage was paid off. However, he found there was an insurance policy with special features and with a low premium specially designed to take care of such cases as his. He took out an Imperial Mortgage Protection Policy to match the amount of his mortgage.

Man-Eating Tigress Gets in Six Weeks Thirty-One Victims

Was Still at Large When Sinclair Left Baluchistan Village, From Which Inhabitants Fled in Terror for their Lives

By GORDON SINCLAIR

Special to The Colonist. Copyright, 1933

QUETTA, Baluchistan.—The worst man-eating tigress to prowl Indian jungles this century has just picked off her thirty-first victim within six weeks and broken her own record by slaughtering four men and nine cows in a single evening.

Once before she butchered three women in an evening.

This sword-clawed killer, a tigress with battle-scarred face, has practically driven the village of Raja Gasswan out of existence. Suspicious mourners have spread the rumor that the killer is a tiger-clawed ghost, invisible and deadly, not a beast at all. The fact that the animal has never been seen in daylight helps this story along and families have been fleeing the place like refugees.

Indian villages, as you probably know, are a cluster of mud huts around a water puddle. Home towners make the huts by scooping out a big hole and making mud pies wholesale. When the rains come this hole fills with water and there is generally enough until next year. It then becomes the village reservoir, bathing ghat, laundry shed, dip, sewage plant and parade ground for gossip.

This scar-faced Bengal man-eater has picked off all her victims at the tank. First to go was a home-grown holy man whose racket was selling charms to gullible suckers against death by wild beasts, snakes, scorpions or lightning. The tigress must have heard about him. He was the only one of her thirty-one kills she entirely devoured. Only his beard was left.

None of last night's victims were eaten at all; the tigress just drank their blood and waited for another. When none came along she went for the cattle.

After the three women had been killed a fortnight ago the village moonlight, against all pious Hindu principles, urged Calcutta hunters to come and kill the killer. Two Scots drove up, built machans over the tank and waited with itchy trigger fingers. Not even the grunt of a tiger showed up. They waited three nights. Still no tiger. Next day they went back to Calcutta in disgust and two kiddies were picked off within ten yards of the machans.

Up from Calcutta came another hunter and a photographer. The night they arrived a girl was killed. They pleaded with the parents, the moonlight and the chief priest of the town for them to leave the body where it lay until the next evening.

They felt sure the tigress would come back to the kill.

The parents indignantly carried their daughter to the pyre and sent her up in smoke.

Meantime the photographer set up elaborate snap traps and joined the sniper in the trees. For long, weary hours they waited while cattle and water buffaloes came to the puddle to drink. The first glimpse of dawn was just peeking across the pink plain when one of the hunters slapped at a mosquito, yawned and said, "No luck, Jock; let's go."

Below a black shadow moved out from the water edge and came straight for the tree. Poof! went the flash powder and away went the tigress howling like a wounded dog. The hunters never even got a shot at her, but the picture was a beauty. She had ignored cattle all night, waiting for a human victim.

A reward of $60 has been put up for the death of this drinker of human blood and among others in the village schoolmistress, and I'd sure like to go.

In the same mail I got a letter from Alaska, of all places. I'm invited to there to hunt bears with the village schoolmistress, and I'd sure like to go.

"The year has passed very pleasantly. False Pass or Faux Pas is a pretty little place. We're on a pass connecting the Bering and Pacific High mountains are all around us. There are only three families here, and my big school has had an enrollment of five up to last month, when it grew to seven. I have a cute little shack for my own. It has a fine view and really all I need is a good Chinese servant. People just kill me with kindness and as a result I'm getting to tip the scale away up yonder.

"I've been on two good goose hunts and managed to bag twenty-six—then ptarmigan after the goose hunting and a nice young caribou, too. I've kept myself in meat all Winter and I can cook a 'wicked' ptarmigan now.

"Now I'm all pepped up about a bear hunt. I'm going as soon as bears get out of their dens. We have some nice big fellows around here. This Fall I went to the neighbors across a salmon creek from here and you'd have laughed to see me coming home. I disturbed one at his meal and since it was dark I took no chances but turned to and ran. A few days later he chased one of the men but they ganged up on him that night and shot him ten yards from the house while he was in pursuit. He measured nine and a half feet (nose to tail).

"After you get finished prowling around with those people in bare skins you better come up here and get a bear skin. Is that a silly pun? Seriously, though, you'd find a million things to write about in Alaska, and you wouldn't eat 'em!"

Alaska bears or Bengal tigers? What a life!

BANDSMEN REACH HOME

Youthful Musicians Given Great Welcome on Arrival at Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Sept. 5.—A crowd, which started gathering three hours before train time and swelled to 5,000 persons, greeted the Vancouver Kiltlano Boys' Band at the Canadian Pacific Railway station here yesterday morning on their return from the Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago, where they won the championship of class "D" bands in competition with leading boys' bands from all parts of the world.

Three Vancouver bands joined in the welcome, providing concerts on the platform and at various points throughout the station and keeping the big crowd entertained until the triumphant arrival of the world's champions. City, provincial and mounted police assisted railway officers in keeping order and protected the youthful musicians from being mobbed by well-meaning admirers.

A welcome such as Vancouver reserves for its Percy Williams and Jimmy McLarnin was accorded the thirty young bandmen and their popular leader, Arthur W. Delamont, when they stepped from their special car aboard the C.P.R. Dominion. The crowd filled the platform, hundreds more stood back in the train sheds, along the pier "D" ramp; the concourse of the station upstairs was jammed to capacity and the streets in the vicinity of the station overflowed with people.

Through the throng, after Mayor L. D. Taylor's official civic greetings, police escorted Bandmaster Delamont and his boys to a row of autos and they were whisked off to their homes.

Yesterday afternoon they were guests of honor at the twenty-fourth Canada Pacific Exhibition. En route to and from Chicago, the Kiltlano Band played concerts at Kamloops, Revelstoke, Banff, Moose Jaw and Winnipeg, making thousands of new friends in Western Canada. Now world's champions in their class, they won the Canadian championship at Toronto Exhibition in 1931 and for the last three years have been Pacific Northwest and British Columbia champions.

RELIEF COSTS INVESTIGATED

Charges Against City Office Not Founded on Fact, Mayor Asserts

Mayor David Leeming, yesterday, in announcing that the investigators of the city relief department probably would not be held this coming Friday, released information he had secured in answer to charges made at the last meeting of the City Council.

The chief criticism at the council meeting against the relief administration was that the city employed a staff of twenty-two to handle some 1,900 relief cases, as compared with the staff of two in Nanaimo for 600 relief cases.

INCORRECT DATA

"I have made direct inquiries to the city clerk of Nanaimo and find that the information given at the last council meeting was not correct," the mayor declared.

He said Nanaimo gave relief to 223 families, 135 single men and fourteen single women. The total cost was $4,508 for the month of July, or $20.22 per family. Nanaimo pays no rent and all relief is given in cash, eliminating a lot of the detail in clerical work.

The city engineer, timekeeper and a stenographer handle the relief cases in Nanaimo, the mayor stated, if any extra help is required, it is enlisted from those on the unemployed list.

A meeting of St. Andrew's Lodge, A.P. & A.M., No. 49, will be held in the Masonic Temple, Plaza Street, on Wednesday, September 6th, 1933, at 2:30 P.M. promptly, for the purpose of attending the funeral of our late Brother George Walter Newton. Members of city lodges and surrounding brethren in good standing are requested to attend.

VANCOUVER RATE
Vancouver, Mayor Leeming said, has an administration cost equal to 7.8 per cent of the total amount paid out in relief. There are 5,900 families on relief and the average cost is $23. A staff of 163 persons is employed to carry out the administration.

The average cost in Victoria for relief is $22.64, the Mayor continued, and pointed out that a representative from the Auditor-General's Department at Ottawa inspected the system last Spring and his report was highly complimentary.

Payroll records at the City Hall show that Victoria's relief department started in January, 1932, with fifteen employees. This increased to twenty in March and two more had been added in September. The latest payroll shows twenty-five persons now employed directly and indirectly through the office, but in recent months the work of social services, including mothers' pensions, has been handed on to this department.

AUGUST BUILDING SHOWS INCREASE

Sanich Figures Last Month More Than $8,000 Over July—Many Dwellings Erected

Thirty building permits, having a total value of $24,305, were issued in Sanich during August. This indicated a strong advance over July figures, that month's total being $15,425.

Of the thirty permits issued, seventeen were for dwellings totaling $18,855 in value. The remaining thirteen were for smaller structures, such as garages and additions to houses.

Six building permits were issued last week, having a total value of $10,900. Five were for dwellings and one for an addition. Dr. F. Youlten is to build a residence and garage at the corner of Salisbury Way and Derby Road, at a value of $2,800. H. Howard, of 121 Burnside Road, is to erect a home on Austin Avenue costing $1,400. CREDIT is like a chain of many links—made up of producers, manufacturers, retailers and professional men—and you, the customer.

You are the vital link! For prompt payment on your part starts money around "the credit circle," through the retailer and professional man to the manufacturer, the producer and the worker—and whether your income is from labor or from stocks and bonds, it will come back to you.

But if you fail to meet your obligations promptly the credit chain is broken.

If you delay payment of a bill for two, three or four months, you're taking the amount of that bill out of circulation, and, perhaps unintentionally, retarding business recovery.

Over 20,000 new policyholders every year

For many years more than 20,000 men and women have joined the Canada Life's great family of policyholders annually. Group insurance policies would greatly increase this total.

Each individual in this large number has received personal service from a Canada Life representative. This requires a widespread organization and a great variety of services and plans.

Thousands of individual premiums aggregate many millions of dollars annually—money that is to grow and be returned, sooner or later, to beneficiaries or to policyholders themselves.

During the past three years the Canada Life paid out over $77,000,000 in this way. In the same period it added over $43,000,000 to its assets to provide for future liabilities to policyholders.

Bob Morrison Wins City Golf Honors At Uplands Course

Defeats Harold Pretty in Thirty-Six-Hole Final to Regain Crown, 5 and 4—Shoots Brilliant 67 in Afternoon Round

BOB MORRISON

Breaking par by three strokes in the afternoon, Bob Morrison regained the city golf championship, Labor Day, at 5 and 4.

Uplands Golf Club when he defeated Harold Pretty, one of Victoria's coming young stars, in the thirty-six-hole final, 5 and 4, before a large gallery. A Morrison's brilliant 67 after lunch was the highlight of the match.

The first four holes in the afternoon went out in 35 and romped over the incoming route.

national 32. Although the match was over at the thirty-second green, Bob finished out his round and turned in the best card he has ever shot in the history of the Uplands for some time. Morrison had rounds of 73 and 67, while Pretty shot a fine 71 in the forenoon and slipped to 79 after lunch.

PRETTY IN LEAD Shooting a 35 on the first nine, Pretty reached the ninth all square, the lead having changed hands several times. Pretty cut loose from the tenth to thirteenth and won four holes in succession with a 4, 3, 3, 3. The next hole was halved and then Morrison took the fifteenth with a three, halved the next, and won the seventeenth and eighteenth holes, to go to lunch still one down.

The first four holes in the afternoon were halved, and then Bob squared the match with a four on the twenty-third to Pretty's five.

After halving the next two holes, Morrison assumed the lead again by winning the twenty-sixth and twenty-seventh holes with a four and a three, to reach the three-quarter mark two up. Morrison was still holding the same margin at the twenty-ninth, and then won the next hole to go three up. Birds three gave Morrison the thirty-first, and the match ended on the next green, when Morrison won the hole with a five to Pretty's six. He finished out the round with 3, 3, 3, and 4 for a brilliant 32.

In the semi-finals, Morrison eliminated Ken Lawson, 2 and 1, while Pretty put out H. G. Mackenzie, 5 and 3. Fred Pearce won the "B" Class championship by his 3 and 2 victory over G. Townsends in the eighteen-hole final, while Jimmy Todd won the first flight of the major event, defeating Norman Wallace, 3 and 2.

WHEN WORLDS COLLIDE

By EDWIN BALMER & PHILIP WYLLIE

SYNOPSIS

As David Randall is approaching New York on the liner Europa, he receives a message from his wife, Mrs. Randall, who is in South Africa. He is told that she has been secretly commissioned at Cape Town by Lord Rhondin and Professor Bronson, the astronomer, to travel to the South African coast and then across the continent to the fast land, with a large traveling case containing photographic plates. He knows only that the plates have been taken by the great telescopes in South Africa of regions of the Southern sky never visible in the Northern hemisphere. His instructions are to deliver them to Dr. Cole Henderson, celebrated physicist, in New York, and to answer no questions on the way. As Randall arrives at the Hudson street house apartment, Tony Drake is wondering why Mrs. Henderson is so late and nervous. He is telling him that he may kiss her, but must not appear to do so.

Tony was scarcely awake when Kyto had brought him the paper. "Dr. Cole Henderson, generally acknowledged to be the leading astrophysicist of America," Tony read, "early this morning gave to the press the following statement on behalf of the sixty scientists named in an accompanying column."

Tony's eyes flashed to the column which carried the list of distinguished names, English, German, French, Italian, Swiss, American, South African, Australian and Japanese.

Similar statements are being given to the press of all peoples at this time. In order to allay rumors likely to rise from the increase of rumors based upon incorrect or misunderstood reports of the discovery made by Professor Bronson, the presence of two bodies then near the star Archernar, which had not been observed before.

"Both were exceedingly faint, and lying in the constellation Eridan, which is one of the largest constellations in the sky, they were at first put down as probably long-period variable stars which had recently increased in brightness, after having been too faint to affect the photographic plate."

"A month later, after photographing again the same locality Professor Bronson looked for the two new stars and found that they had moved. No object of stellar distance could show displacement in so short a space of time. It was certain, therefore, that the newly-observed bodies were not stars. They must be previously unobserved and unsuspected members of our solar system, or else objects, from outside our system, now approaching us."

"They must be new planets or comets—or strangers from space."

"All planets known to be associated with our sun move approximately in the plane described by the earth's orbit. This is true, whatever the size or distance of the planets, from Mercury to Pluto. The two Bronson bodies were moving almost at right angles to the plane of the planetary orbits."

"Comets appear from all directions; but these two bodies did not resemble comets when viewed through the greater telescope. One of them, at the time of the second observation, showed a small but perceptible tail. Its spectrum exhibited the characteristic lines of reflected sunlight. Meanwhile, several observations of position and movement were made which made it plain that the two Bronson bodies were objects of planetary dimensions, and characteristics, approaching us from out of stellar distances—that is, from space."

"The two bodies have remained

"NEW WORLDS COLLIDE"

"Comets Appear From All Directions; But These Two Bodies Did Not Resemble Comets When Viewed Through the Greater Telescope."

associated, approaching us together and at the same speed. Both now show disks which can be measured. It can now be estimated that, when first observed, they had approached within the distance from the sun of the planet Neptune. It must be remembered, however, that they lie in an entirely different direction.

"Since coming under observation, they have moved within the distance of the orbit of our planet Uranus, and are approaching the distance of Saturn."

"Bronson Alpha—which is the name temporarily assigned to the larger of the two new bodies—appears in the telescope similar in size to Uranus. That is, its estimated diameter is something over forty thousand miles. Bronson Beta, which is the smaller of the two bodies, has an estimated diameter of eight thousand miles. It is similar in size, therefore, to the earth."

"Bronson Beta at present is in advance of Alpha in their approach toward the solar system; but they do not move in parallel lines. Beta, which is the smaller, revolves about Alpha so that their positions constantly change."

"They have both come definitely within the sphere of gravitational influence of the sun; but having arrived from interstellar space, their speeds of approach greatly exceed the velocities of our familiar planets in their orbits around the sun."

"Such are the observed phenomena. The following is necessarily highly speculative, but it is offered as a possible explanation of the origin of the two Bronson bodies."

"It has long been supposed that other stars than ours—of course our sun is only a star—are other planets like the earth and Mars and Jupiter. It is not presumed that all stars are surrounded by planets; but it has been estimated that probably at least one star in one hundred thousand has developed a planetary system. Among the many billions of stars there are probably millions of stars with planets. It is always possible that some catastrophe would tear the planets away. It would require nothing more than the approach of another star toward the sun to destroy the gravitational control of the sun over the earth and Venus and Mars and Jupiter and other planets, and to send them all spinning into space on cold and dark careers of their own."

"It is impossible yet to tell: 'But there will be effects?'"

"Certainly there will be effects."

"How serious?"

Again Cole Henderson refused to answer.

"It is impossible yet to say."

"Will the earth be endangered?"

"Answer: There will undoubtedly be considerable alterations of conditions of life here."

"What sort of alterations?"

"That will be the subject of a later statement," Dr. Henderson replied. "The character and degree of the disturbance which we are to undergo is now the subject of study by a responsible group. We will attempt to describe the conditions likely to confront all of us on the world as soon as they clearly define themselves."

"When will this supplementary statement be made?"

"As soon as possible."

"Tomorrow?"

"No; by no means as soon as tomorrow."

"Within a week? Within a month?"

"I would say that it might be made within a month."

Tony was on his feet, and in spite of himself, trembling. There was no possible mistaking of the undertone of this astounding announcement. It spelled doom, or some alteration of all conditions of life on the world equivalent to complete disaster.

The League of the Last Days! There was some reference to it in another column, but Tony scarcely caught its coherence. Where was he, and what, upon this morning, was he doing? How was she feeling? What was she thinking? Might she, at last, be sleeping?

She had been up all night and at work assisting her father. The statement had been released at one o'clock in the morning. How much more than this, which had been told, did she now know? Plainly, manifestly the scientists knew more, much more, which they dared not yet tell the public. Dared not! That was the fact.

Kyto, who usually effaced himself, did not do so this morning. Kyto, having the untasted coffee for an excuse, called attention to himself and ventured, "Mister, of course, comprehends the news?"

"Yes, Kyto; I understand it—partly, at any rate."

"I may inquire, please, perhaps the significance?"

Tony stared at the little Jap. He had always liked him, but suddenly he was assailed with a surge of fellow feeling for this small brown man trapped like himself on the rim of the world.

Trapped! That was it. Trapped was the word for this strange feeling.

"Kyto, we're in for something."

"What?"

"Something rather—extensive. Kyto, one thing is sure, we're all in for it together."

"General—destruction?" Kyto asked.

Tony shook his head, and he replied surprised himself. "No; if it were just that, they'd say it—the end of everything. People after all, in a way are prepared for that. Kyto."

Tony was reasoning to himself as much as talking to Kyto. "No; this can't be just—destruction. It doesn't feel like it, Kyto."

"What else could it be?" questioned the Jap practically. Tony, having no answer, gulped his coffee, and Kyto had to attend to the telephone, which was ringing.

Fashion Show Will Be Staged at Exhibition

Fashion shows continue to hold their interest and to make a special appeal to women. The plans are being made for the first showing of Autumn and Winter modes by the Hudson's Bay Company during the Provincial Exhibition, next week.

Special staging is being arranged in the Automobile Building at the entrance of the fair grounds at the Willows, and the lighting will be a feature of the fashion show, which will take place each evening at 8.30 o'clock.

During the programme there will be dances by the pupils of Miss Violet Powles, and this attraction alone will draw many spectators.

SIX MODELS

From the markets of the Eastern fashion centres and from abroad have come the first of the charming styles which will be in evidence this season, and six charming mannequins will appear in the latest sport frocks, suits, hand-woven tweeds and the popular suede coats. Dinner for afternoon wear will be shown, which will feature the new cord effects which will be exceptionally popular in all materials. Dinner and ball gowns of lovely shades and styles will display the clever originality which has been shown in their design by some of the best houses.

For coats, for which the Hudson's Bay Company has always been justly famous, will be more luxurious than ever, and some of the finest have been selected for the fashion show. The display will be arranged in a particularly attractive manner and will enable all spectators to inspect each exhibit at the same time giving a comprehensive survey of the styles of Winter, 1933, as a whole.

MALEK'S, LIMITED also have living models showing fur and cloth coats in their own exhibit in the Manufacturers' Building, and this arrangement will be of particular interest to those thinking of investing in a smart new coat for the coming season.

Pretty Wedding Solemnized at Qualicum Beach

The marriage of Miss Ina Merylson, daughter of Mr. G. F. Merylson, of Victoria, and the late Mr. Charles E. Towler, of Qualicum Beach, eldest son of Mr. Hugh Towler and the late Mrs. Reid, was celebrated on Saturday evening in the United Church at Qualicum Beach, Rev. C. Finmore officiating. The decorations in the church were exceptionally pretty. Large baskets of flowers in yellow, mauve and white were banked behind the altar, while each window was decked with asters, gladioli and ferns. White, yellow and peach dahlias, mauve asters and wild maidenhair ferns were used on the laticed double arch, under which the bride party stood. Mrs. G. F. Merylson and Miss Marjorie Watson, of Victoria; Miss Jean Miller, of Vancouver, and Miss P. Lawton, of Winnipeg, were the bride's friends who decorated the church.

CHARMING BRIDE
Given in marriage by Mr. G. F. Merylson, of Victoria, an old family friend, the bride looked charming in her gown of ivory tulle, made on long lines. The sleeves were puffed to the elbow, finished with long, light cuffs, pointed over the wrists. A large bow of the same material as the frock, and clasped with a diamante buckle, was placed at the back of the waistline. Her hand-embroidered net veil was bound to her head by a laticed cap of orange blossoms. She carried an arm bouquet of pink roses, white carnations and white lilies.

ONE ATTENDANT
Miss Amy Biddle, of Vancouver, was the bride's only attendant, and she wore a frock of honey melon tulle, with a wide, ruffled collar and sleeves being edged with tiny ruffles. The waistline was marked by a girde of mauve ribbon, and she wore a close-fitting tulle of the same material as the dress. Her bouquet was a sheaf of yellow and mauve gladioli, tied with mauve ribbon. Mr. Andrew Reid was the best man, and the ushers were Mr. Arnold White, of Vancouver, and Mr. Harry Phillips. During the signing of the register, Miss Marjorie Watson sang Robert's beautiful setting of "Still as the Night." Mr. James Miller, of Vancouver, presided at the organ, playing the traditional wedding march.

RECEPTION HELD
Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Log Cabin, where the bride couple was assisted by Mrs. A. Towler, and Mrs. Merylson. Canoeing was composed of peach gladioli and roses. The handsome three-tiered cake centred the table, and yellow being used as the color motif. Soloes were rendered by Miss Jean Miller, Miss Riva Gillan and Mr. James Miller, with Miss M. Watson and Mr. Miller accompanying.

Mr. and Mrs. Reid left later for Alberni to board the Ss. Princess Norah for a honeymoon trip to the West Coast. Later, they will visit in Vancouver and Victoria before returning to Qualicum Beach, where they will reside. The bride couple for traveling a grey Canton crepe dress, trimmed with blue plaid, with which she wore a skipper blue coat and a grey turban with matching accessories. Among the many gifts received by the young couple was a cut glass bowl with a sugar and cream set to match from the long-distance staff of the B.C. Telephone Company, Victoria, of which the bride was a member.

Practical Results May Follow Dreams Of Aero Engineers

Adoption of Variable Pitch Air Screws to "Brake" Planes When Landing, One of Several Improvements Looked For

Experiments conducted in the past few weeks have shown that one of the dreams of the aircraft designer, an aircraft so made that its blades move automatically in flight to the most efficient angle of pitch, is likely to materialize soon in practical form. Great improvement in performance and the acquisition of some qualities not yet inherent in all airplanes, for example, ability to "brake" the progress of the machine when coming in to land, will follow adoption of variable pitch air screws in certain types of civilian and military aircraft.

The latest version of the device, which may be considered as taking the place in an airplane of the gear-box motor car, "changing gear" to meet varying conditions of flight, represents the culmination of years of steady development work by the Gloster company of designs first worked out by Professor Hele-Shaw, the physicist. It incorporates improvements decided as the result of tests made with an earlier model in a fast two-seater military bi-plane powered with a Rolls-Royce Kestrel motor. Not only does the gear function even more effectively than before, but the engineering problems associated with its manufacture in quick and economic fashion are brought nearer solution. Its weight, up to the present one of the chief disadvantages of the mechanism, is reduced to a point where it compares much more favorably with fixed-bladed propellers.

According to Lord, from time to time inventors have produced air screws with adjustable blades, constructed so that the angle of pitch might be altered on the ground before ascent, but the immensely more difficult problem of the automatically varying unit has taken longer to solve. In the Gloster device, a mechanism fitted to the air screw hub regulates the twist of the blades according to the load on the engine; it consists essentially in oil-filled cylinders, working on hydraulic principles.

Longer engine life and elimination of breakdowns caused by "over-revving" of engines, especially in aerial combat, are among the advantages claimed for the gear. The pilot sets his air screw to a certain rate of revolution and thereafter the blades cannot be exceeded, the matter how he may move the throttle nor how steeply he may dive the machine. When the airplane is climbing, in other words, when the engine is running under heavy load, it is none the less real in its demands upon the power plant because it is invisible, the automatic mechanism sets the air screw blades to the most efficient angle; it changes down to a lower gear.

BRAKE FOR LANDING

Airplanes fitted with this new propeller have flown hundreds of hours. Adaptations of the device have been built for some of the leading British aero engines, including the Bristol Jupiter and the Kestrel. Other nations are showing keen interest in the work of the Gloster experts; in 1931 Japan and the Soviet Union acquired examples of the gear for test purposes. A recent report from the American Research Committee showed that a variable pitch air screw may be used as an effective air brake when an airplane is approaching a landing ground. Reducing the pitch will enable the pilot to increase considerably the angle of glide and so make a landing in a shorter distance after clearing obstacles at the edge of the landing field.

Used in conjunction with other devices for increasing lift and maintaining adequate control at all points of the speed range, such as motor slides and flaps, the variable pitch air screw may go a long way towards providing the airplane, which, while capable of very high speeds, shall be easily landed, and taken off from extremely restricted areas.

From time to time inventors have produced air screws with adjustable blades, constructed so that the angle of pitch might be altered on the ground before ascent, but the immensely more difficult problem of the automatically varying unit has taken longer to solve. In the Gloster device, a mechanism fitted to the air screw hub regulates the twist of the blades according to the load on the engine; it consists essentially

Next Flight of Mollison's May Start at Montreal

MONTREAL, Sept. 5 (CP).—Montreal is likely to be the take-off point for Captain James A. Mollison and his wife, the former Amy Johnson, on their next trans-Atlantic flight. The Gazette says today. Word from London that Captain Mollison is to sail for Montreal on the St. Duchesne of York with a new airplane, to be assembled in Canada, is taken as confirmation of previous reports the flying couple would start their next long hop from Canadian soil.

Before Amy Johnson Mollison left Montreal on August 21, she inspected the territory here and said she was impressed with the possibilities of a wide concrete road in the outskirts of the city as a runway for taking off. She communicated at once with her husband, The Gazette continues, and is believed to have suggested Montreal as a starting point.

Local Craft Winners At Cowichan Regatta

Jeran Captures Motorboat Race—Vancouver and Seattle Craft Take Lipton and Northwest Trophies for Large Yachts

The Royal Victoria Yacht Club was well represented among the winning craft in the Cowichan Bay regatta ever held as a Labor Day regatta. During the past week-end, Yachtmasters from all the leading clubs in the Northwest competed, and some splendid racing resulted, the wind holding fairly strong during the time the races were sailed.

In the star and dinghy classes, Mintaka, sailed by W. T. M. Barrett, won the Tzouhalem Cup; and Kismet, skippered by H. Gann, is the new holder of the Cowichan Sailing Dinghy Cup. Both boats fly the burgee of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club. The second boat to finish in the event for star boats was Taseko, sailed by F. C. Adams and H. A. Tomalin; and the third, Boykin, R. F. Blandy. In the dinghy class, Murrelet, with Ian Ackland as pilot, was second, and Tern, skippered by Humphrey Golby, was third.

Sailing in the contest for the larger class yachts, craft of the Royal Vancouver Yacht Club placed first, second and third, respectively, for the Sir Thomas Lipton Challenge Trophy, the yawl Minerva, Captain H. L. Wallace, being first; Westward Ho, Captain B. N. Johnson, second; and Marles, Captain Oliphant Bell, third.

On Saturday night, the yachtmasters and their friends danced at the Cowichan Bay Inn. The dance proved a highly enjoyable affair in every way. Labor Day, the Vancouver fleet raced home from Port Alberni, and the Victoria craft returned to moorings in Cadboro Bay, some in tow of E. G. Beaumont's Discovery, and some behind Emmaline, Captain Seymour, of the Seattle Yacht Club.

The meet at Cowichan Bay was held under the auspices of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club. F. J. O'Reilly was officer of the day, with B. B. Temple as official starter, and M. C. Koschlin as timekeeper. J. F. Dick and Ian Ackland were judges, while F. C. Adams and H. A. Tomalin; and the third, Boykin, R. F. Blandy. In the dinghy class, Murrelet, with Ian Ackland as pilot, was second, and Tern, skippered by Humphrey Golby, was third.

RURAL DRAMA IS NOW AT DOMINION

Phil Stong's Latest Novel, "The Stranger's Return," Stars L. Barrymore and M. Hopkins

Notable in brilliancy of performance and sheer pictorial beauty, "The Stranger's Return," filmed from the new Phil Stong novel of rural life, opens today at the Dominion Theatre with Lionel Barrymore and Miriam Hopkins co-starring in the leading roles.

Directed by King Vidor, the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture achieves masterful sweep in dramatic power against a farm background that lends realism to the gripping story action. Written by the author of "State Fair," the film transcends the story of his earlier work in simple, genuine, human interest.

With Lionel Barrymore cast as the eighty-five-year-old farmer who refuses to die until his house is in order, Barrymore delivers the most compelling characterization of his career.

Heart-throbbing romance vies with pulse-stirring action in "The Picture Snatcher," the added feature at the Dominion Theatre, visualizing the colorful life of a newsreel cameraman, played by William Gargan, with Frances Dee as the love interest.

PLAYHOUSE While "Adorable," now at the Playhouse Theatre, the new Janet Gaynor-Henry Garat production for Fox Film, is a story of pure romance, it has a musical setting that is an important adjunct of the picture. The music, written by Werner Richard Heymann, is specially adapted to the romantic rhythm of the story, and is as essentially to the dialogue.

EMPIRE James Cagney is now appearing at the Empire Theatre in "The Picture Snatcher," a thrilling story, a newspaper photographer, Patricia Ellis, Ralph Bellamy and Alice White are important members of the supporting cast. Lloyd Bacon directed the picture, which is based on the original story by Danny Ahern.

CAPITOL Cary Grant, Benita Hume, Jack LaRue, Glenda Farrell and Roscoe Karns play the leading roles in "Gambling Ship," a thrill-packed melodrama of life aboard a floating gambling palace, now showing at the Capitol Theatre. Edmund Lowe has the stellar role in Paramount's "Her Bodyguard," the second feature. Wynne Gibson is cast as a beautiful Broadway actress.

COLUMBIA Paul Lukas, Hungary, in screen actor, featured in Universal's Continental drama, "The Kiss Before the Mirror," at the Columbia Theatre this week. One of the most accomplished and seasoned aviators in Hollywood, Lukas maintains two Bellanca planes for his personal use all of the time, and usually flies himself whenever he takes a trip.

EMPIRE TO PRESENT ENGLISH COMEDienne

In "Sally in Our Alley," coming to the Empire Theatre on Friday, one will be able to follow Cary Grant in the lovable part of "Sally" in her rapid climb from the humble role of the singing waitress in a small cafe in the East End of London to the heights of the drawing-rooms of Mayfair.

It can be said that her golden voice carried her from the East End of London to the aristocratic quarters of the West End, but her irrepressible humor and childish antics brought her back where she was more in her element.

Gracie introduces some new and catchy numbers in her delightful wait theme, "Sally," a rousing march ditty, "Fall In and Follow the Band," and a really funny number in "Fred Panakowsky" only as the incomparable Gracie can.

GREENWOOD MINE MAKES PROGRESS

GRAND FORKS.—Satisfactory progress is being made in opening up the Jewel Mine near Greenwood, according to Major Angus Davis. The operators are also developing the adjoining group of claims, formerly held by the McKenzie-Mann interests.

The company has been making quiet progress since 1931 when the valuable Enterprise-Anchor group of claims were secured and provided the key property essential to the creation of a large potential gold-producing property with a proven vein nearly a mile long and an average width of four feet.

During past operations of the Jewel Mine over $500,000 in gold bullion was produced from the single claim to which its operations were confined. The ore then averaged from $10 to $12 per ton and a very large body of lower grade (from $6 to $8 ore) remained untouched.

After many attempts had been made to obtain the adjoining property, the Jewel Mine was closed in August, 1931. Consolidation was finally effected just prior to the present reawakened interest in gold production.

Big Quartz Find On Perry Creek Draws Attention

Large Companies Reported to Be Striving to Acquire Rich Reef Uncovered Near Old Placer Ground—Vein Stripped for Long Distance—High Values Shown in Assays

Cranbrook, Sept. 5.—Perry Creek is the centre of interest of a number of the largest gold mining companies in the world, no less than five outstanding mining companies bidding for the fabulously rich gold quartz claims held by Kimberley and Chapman Camp men. Considerable widespread comment has been made during past two months on the major group of fourteen claims held by Elmer Rice and associates at Sawmill Creek, a tributary of Perry Creek.

Five large mining companies are tendering bids for the property, Anconda, Granby Consolidated, Hecia Mining Company, Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company and A. B. Trices, of the Premier Mine, it is said. Each company has secured samples and report exceptionally good assays of gold, running as high as fifteen ounces to the ton.

READY TO START

One of the companies has gone so far as to state that if they obtain possession of the mineral area they will guarantee to commence operations within twenty-four hours after acquiring the property. This alone proves to the community that the mine will be a valuable asset and bring about means of relieving the unemployment problem of the district. It is believed by well-informed mining men that the mother lode of the famous Perry Creek district has been revealed.

GREAT WIDTH

At present the preliminary work of prospecting and crosscutting the ledge is being done by stripping and removal of approximately 3,000 feet, its average width being in the neighborhood of 100 feet. The main ore body is located in a true fissure vein, running at right angles through a schist formation, with a mineralization consisting of hematite, iron pyrite, small percentage of galena and free milling gold.

Two crosscuts have been made about 100 feet in length at a depth of seven or eight feet, along with a succession of holes in the west end, carrying a body of ore comprising free gold along with hematite iron in a pocket formation, running in values from twelve to fifteen ounces of gold to the ton. The ledge carrying the ore body dips to an angle of sixty degrees along the mountain slope. The altitude at this point is 6,600 feet above sea level.

THEORIES UPSET

The find upsets the theories advanced by many mining men, including a number of experts. The story has been often repeated that "there is nothing in Perry Creek." Big mining and bigger mining companies often go astray. The fact that five companies are bidding for the property is a strong indication of the value of the find.

ago. First, perhaps, is the advantage of earlier exploration; then there is the great advantage of early and cheaper transportation, as well as the most important advantage of improved metallurgical processes and modern machinery.

MUCH ACTIVITY

From the region about Vancouver to Atlin, along the Coast, there is intensive activity, while in the interior, the Bridge River district has already proven itself to be rich beyond all the dreams of earlier prospectors. Cariboo—golden Cariboo, the lodestone that drew thousands to British Columbia in the sixties of the last century—has been proven. It has been determined that its surface values descend to depth. Sheep Creek and Ymir areas are

OPEN MINE IN RICH DISTRICT

Cayoosh Gold Mines, Ltd., Plan Scientific Development of Area

It is significant that the predictions of geologists of former days, in respect to the gold reefs of British Columbia, are being justified by exploration and modern mining methods. With one accord from the early days of placer excitement, mineralogists maintained that sooner or later the surrounding country to the rich placer creeks would prove to be rich.

One of the earliest and richest of the bonanza creeks of British Columbia was Cayoosh Creek, the stream that originates over the divide from Seaton Lake, and empties into the Fraser at Lillooet.

From this boulder strewn ground the early miners took immense sums in gold dust. Using primitive methods, and contending with heavy gravel and boulders, they succeeded in extracting much coarse gold.

SYSTEMATIC MINING

The country about Cayoosh Creek is indicative of gold, and in the past spasmodic endeavors have been made to mine. Now, however, systematic operations are to be commenced on ground that gives admirable promise of developing a valuable mine. A Victoria group, organized under the presidency of H. P. Simpson, and having as directors Dr. J. D. Hunter, W. L. McIntosh, D. G. W. Almers, T. S. McPherson and R. W. Hiberson, intend to operate along well-planned and scientific lines in opening up a group of claims.

The company, known as Cayoosh Gold Mines, Ltd., after careful examination, have acquired property that lends itself to easy development, with every possibility of success. The claims are situated on Cayoosh Creek, eight miles from Craig's Lodge, on Seaton Lake, by road. Six miles of this road is in good shape, while the remainder is being repaired.

WELL MINERALIZED

The locality is extremely favorable, and rich assays of gold have been secured from adjoining properties, while several large veins outcrop on the company's holdings.

It is proposed to thoroughly explore the property and test the known veins at depth by diamond drilling to determine the values in the deeper ground. Upon the information obtained plans for the proper and economical development of the property will be based.

GOLD GIVES PROMISE OF PROSPERITY

Yellow Metal Has Proved to Bring Business Recovery in All Depressions

MINING EFFORT IS WIDESPREAD

Gold mining brought the first influx of settlers to British Columbia; gold mining brought recovery to the province during the depression of the early nineties, and gave the incentive to the development of the country, and today it is gold mining that is pointing the way to prosperity once more.

Never, perhaps, in the history of British Columbia has there been a wider and more determined exploration for the yellow metal, nor has there been, at any time, greater promise than that of today. Development of mines in 1933 has advantages over that of forty years ago. First, perhaps, is the advantage of earlier exploration; then there is the great advantage of early and cheaper transportation, as well as the most important advantage of improved metallurgical processes and modern machinery.

Kermit Cameron and Guy Graham Win Feature Races at Outboard Regatta

Victoria Boy and Mainlander Speed To Fine Victories

Former Cops Six and Three-Mile Events at Cordova Bay Meet While Latter Flashes to Front in Two Races—Smith Gains Honors—6,000 Persons in Attendance

Guiding their craft over the course at a high rate of speed with unruffled skill, Kermit Cameron, Victoria, and Guy Graham, Vancouver, the Pacific Northwest outboard racing champions, captured the feature events at the international outboard regatta held at Cordova Bay on Labor Day under the auspices of the Cordova Bay Outboard Motor Association. A record crowd of 6,000 lined the beach and available places to watch the tiny boats speed over the measured course.

Officials of the association are planning to hold such a meet yearly during the great season of their first event. The events had the official sanction of the National Outboard Association. Every race provided plenty of thrills and the meet concluded with a dance and presentation of prizes by Reeve William Crouch of Saanich.

WINS FIRST RACE

Flashing over the six-mile course in the "C" class hydroplanes in 3 minutes 26 seconds, Kermit Cameron flashed to victory in the opening event. He averaged thirty-eight miles an hour, and at times was going forty-five miles per hour on the straightaways, the corners slowing up the speed of all drivers. Cameron raced over the course for the four-lap course in 1 minute 57.2 seconds to win The Daily Times Shield from a strong field. The local youngster defeated Jack Clark and Chick Johnson, both of Nanaimo, by a good margin. Clark took second berth and Johnson third.

Guy Graham gave the crowd thrills galore in showing the way in the three- and four-mile events for "C" class hydrocos with his Evinrude. The Vancouver pilot tore over the four-lap course in 1 minute 55 seconds and the three-mile course in 4 minutes 26 seconds to cop his second trophy.

SMITH WINS

Jack Smith, well-known local driver, using a powerful Johnson motor, captured all events for four-horsepower motors and "B" class hydroplanes by speedily flying the two-mile distance at a good rate. He also won the three-mile for "B" hydrocos and four-horsepower open.

Only one slight accident marred the programme, but no one was seriously injured. While rounding the first turn, Graham cut inside of Jack Beban, of Nanaimo, and the speed of his boat sent him flying across the water and on to the fin of Beban's craft. The bow of Graham's boat crashed against Beban's shoulder, but he was not hurt, and gamely stayed in the race during the remainder of the day. He was attended to by Dr. Graham.

OFFICIALS

The officials for the day were: President, George W. Russell; secretary, Fred Doherty; treasurer, George Holt; starter and referee, Sidney Pickles and Walter E. Adams; judges, William Moresey, K.C., and J. Rippon; timekeeper, P. Brogan; George Holt, as flagman; pit manager, Norman Orice; pick-up boats, Arthur Pickles and N. Fidler.

The committee in charge were: Prize committee, C. Ellis and K. Cameron; reception committee, G. Russell, W. C. Moresey, Fred Doherty, N. Norris, Dr. McAdair, N. Orice; finance committee, V. Bennett, G. Holt, C. Ellis; beach and raft committee, Bob Kellow, Don Kellow, Benie Strimling, John Bray, Bill Anderson, Lawrence Tomlin, Dave Martin and Len Kellow; programme committee, Jack Smith, K. Cameron and B. Davis; announcer, C. Kellow; recorders, Miss Eugenie Doherty, Miss Phoebe Hughes and Miss Peggy Brindle; attending physician, Dr. D. W. Graham; nurses in charge, Miss E. Birtwistle and Mrs. K. I. Forrest.

THE WINNERS

3 h.p. hydroplanes, two laps, for Aaronson Cup—1, Jack Smith; time, 12:07 1-10.
"C" hydroplanes, three laps, for The Times Shield—1, Cameron, Victoria, 4:57 2-3; 2, Jack Clark, Nanaimo; 3, Chick Johnson, Nanaimo.

Victorian Hooks 52-Pound Fish To Win Button

LANDING a fifty-two-pound salmon after twenty-five minutes of fight, Bob Love, Victoria, gained the Tye Club gold button while fishing at Campbell River over the holiday. Love was accompanied by Arthur Buckle, Elbeck and Roger Wilson, also Victorians, at the time of his feat. It marked the first time that Love has caught, while Buckle has been visiting Campbell River on and off for the past ten years and has failed as yet to get by the fifty-pound mark. It is the second largest fish hooked at the popular Summer resort this season, and the biggest caught by a local angler. The fish was caught with regulation tye tackle.

EXPLANATION FOR SUNDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

The strange origin of Labor Day—Labor Day in the United States was originated by the Knights of Labor, a union which started among the garment cutters of Philadelphia in 1869. They held their first labor parade Monday, September 4, 1882, and repeated it two years later. Owing to universal agitation, Colorado made the day a State holiday, an example that was followed by most of the States.

The emblem of the Knights of Labor bears a motto adopted from the words of Solon, One of the strangest coincidences in history is the fact that Solon, first social reformer, more than twenty-five centuries ago, made the second day (Monday) of the first decade (week) of Boedromion, a month corresponding to our September, as a feast day to be celebrated by festive remembrance of labor for the benefit of the two lowest classes of Greek society, the Hektemeros and the Slaves, thus foreshadowing in a spot, curious manner the American Labor Day.

Eastman Broke a Thirty-Two-Year-Old Record—On October 4, 1900, Maxie Long set the remarkable record of 47 seconds for the 440-yard dash. In all amateur, collegiate or professional track sports, Long's record was never beaten officially until Ben Eastman, at Palo Alto on March 26, 1932, cut the time down to 44.4 seconds.

Two Local Golfers Still in Hunt for Totem Pole Honors

Jack Matson and J. W. Ruggles Advance in Jasper Club Tourney—Two Vancouver Players Score Wins—Mrs. Sayward-Wilson Tops Medal

JASPER PARK LODGE, Alta., Sept. 5.—With four players from Vancouver and Victoria still in the championship fight for Totem Pole honors, the Pacific Coast has a grand chance of winning premier honors, especially at three more players from Seattle are also in the running. Today's match play game brought out the first competitive angle, and gave a fair idea as to where the strength was hidden.

One of the favored players to reach the final is Jack Matson, Victoria. He scored a handy win over Dr. Appleby, Vancouver, this morning, reaching the tour in 30. Matson is playing sound golf, and finds the course much to his liking. J. W. Ruggles, Victoria, advanced by defeating W. T. Rae, Vancouver.

The Vancouver pair are R. L. Cliff and Mac O'Neill, the latter being highly favored as a finalist. He has a tough game tomorrow when he meets Thomas Green, Seattle, the medalist.

One of the upsets this morning was the elimination of F. Sayward-Wilson, the veteran shot-maker from Victoria, who fell before the steady stroking of E. N. Kennedy, Edmonton.

In the night play, T. S. McPherson, Victoria, entered the third flight by virtue of a loss to Norman White, of Winnipeg. C. W. Parman, Victoria, defeated Barney Stanley, Edmonton, former Coast hockey veteran, in the fourth flight. In the lower half, Stacey and Matson look like semi-finalists, while in the upper section O'Neill, Vancouver, and Leslie Bell, Calgary, former champion, are favored.

Stokes Elected Head of Midweek Football League

ARTHUR Stokes was elected president of the Victoria and District Wednesday Football League last night at the annual meeting held at the Y.M.C.A. Stokes succeeds Albert Hewison as head of the league. Stokes was again returned as secretary-treasurer. Six teams will probably form the league this season.

Entries will close Monday, September 18. Hudson's Bay, Navy, Garrison, Hears, Spencer's and the Victoria Police Department are expected to have a representative present.

Fair Grade, winner of the second race, paid $30.90 and Barter, fourth race victor, $20.80.

VICTORIA XI GAINS DRAW ON MAINLAND

Reg Wenman and Gibbons Bat Well as Locals Retain Cricket Trophy

VANCOUVER, Sept. 5.—Five runs decided the destination of the inter-city Flumerfelt Cricket Trophy in the return encounter between Vancouver and Victoria at Brockton Point yesterday. Holding down Vancouver's forcing batsmen in the final ten minutes of play the Islanders forced a draw and return to the Capital City in possession of the silverware.

Perry Payne, Victoria's veteran skipper, led his team to victory in the previous inter-city match July 1, and as a reward for his successful leadership, the trophy will adorn his mantelpiece for the ensuing twelve months.

RAIN DELAYS START

A continual drizzle of rain delayed a start until a few minutes before 2 o'clock. Victoria batted first and lost Sparks and Pile cheaply, the early disaster paving the way for Reg Wenman and Gibbons in a prolific run-getting partnership, carrying the score to 188 for three wickets.

Gibbons profited by a "sitter" given to Broadfoot at square leg, when his score stood at ten, but afterward played fine cricket.

MARINE CITY, Mich., Sept. 5 (CP).—Silver-haired Gar Wood today had turned back the challenge of the Scott-Paine made for the Harmsworth Trophy, the world's premier motor-boat prize, but not before the unassuming Detroit had turned Monday's deciding race into the closest one of recent times.

When the Detroit veteran roared his four-engined craft across the finish line before a Labor Day throng of 150,000 to mark up his second straight victory in the best-of-two-out-of-three events, Scott-Paine was only 22.35 seconds in his wake.

It had been a close fight all the way over the thirty-five nautical mile course on the St. Clair River, with the Briton piloting his small craft expertly and recklessly to stay within hauling distance of the bulky defender.

No records were broken, but the times of both crafts were far better than those of the first heat Saturday. The fastest lap of Miss America X was 29.39 miles an hour, that of Miss Britain, 27.25 miles. The defender's elapsed time for the seven circuits of a course that was somewhat choppy was 27:48.94; Scott-Paine needed 28:11.25.

WET COURTS MAKE PLAYING DIFFICULT IN SECOND ROUNDS

Whole Australian Contingent Advances—Fred Perry Wins After Dropping First Set to Robert Bryan—Seventh Ranked Japanese Beaten by Outsider—Vines Easy Winner

(Associated Press Sports Writers)
FOREST HILLS, N.Y., Sept. 5 (AP).—On turf still slippery and hazardous from week-end rains, the foreign tennis contingent progressed almost intact today, through the second round of the United States men's singles championship, at the West Side Club.

There was only one casualty in the "seeded" ranks of the invaders, as Eikichi Itoh, of the Japanese Davis Cup team, skidded out of the tournament.

The entire Australian contingent, including the great Jack Crawford, looked anything but impressive, and Fred Perry, Britain's Davis Cup hero, and Jiro Satoh, squat, hard-hitting No. 1 player of the Japanese team, did not appear to favor the slippery going.

Itoh, seeded No. 7 in the foreign list, was eliminated by a former college star, Dr. Davis O'Loughlin, of Pittsburgh, in the only upset of a day that cut the field from sixty-four to thirty-two for the third round, tomorrow. Dr. O'Loughlin, backing up a strong service with baseline steadiness, trimmed the young Japanese by 6-3, 6-1, 6-3.

SATOH ADVANCES

Satoh, one of the few top-notchers to hold a decision over Crawford this year, struggled with another Pennsylvanian, Hugh Lynch, of Buck Hill Falls, before pulling out his match at 6-4, 6-6, 6-4. Crawford made his first appearance on the stadium turf against Julius Seligson, United States collegiate champion of 1928, and was slightly erratic for two sets, before winning by scores of 6-4, 6-3, 6-0.

Vivian McGrath, the curly-haired Australian, whose two-flashed backhand has attracted more attention than any other stroke in the tournament, had a battle with Wilmer Hines, tall Columbia, S.C., star, before emerging on top in one of the longest contests of the day, 6-3, 6-4, 6-4. McGrath's unorthodox backhand was not in very good working order.

Don Turnbull and Adrian Quist, Australian doubles mates, likewise found the footing difficult. Turnbull squeaked through against the veteran New Yorker, J. Gilbert Hall, 6-4, 7-5, 6-4, 6-4, while Quist overcame another seasoned New Yorker, Ned Herndon, by 6-3, 3-6, 6-4, 6-3.

FRED PERRY WINS

Perry, who is favored to meet Eliaworth Vines, the defending champion, in the semi-finals, dropped his first set with the left-handed Robert Bryan, of Chattanooga, Tenn., before settling down to win by scores of 3-6, 6-3, 6-0, 6-3.

The home guard, led by Vines and Frank X. Shields, giant New Yorker, meanwhile had relatively little difficulty. The champion, disposed of Ray Palmer, Jr., of Malibu, N.Y., a high school boy, 6-1, 6-2, 6-2, while Shields whipped John O'Grady, of New York, 6-0, 6-2, 6-4.

Of the other top "seeded" Americans, Wilmer Allison, Cliff Butler, Frankie Parker and George Lott all came through in straight sets.

Wenger Captures Two Trophies at Final Trap Shoot
In the final shoot of the Victoria Gun Club, held at Colwood on Sunday, Johnny Wenger won two trophies, the Dominion and McGary, while Doug McGary came from behind to take The Colonist Cup.

In the last named event, McGary broke twenty-four out of twenty-five birds to win the final leg and tie with Wenger, E. Hasenfratz and E. B. Wilson for possession of the cup. In the shoot-off, McGary broke twenty-five straight.

The Dominion Trophy event, Sunday, also saw McGary win, but Wenger with three victories clinched the honors for the year. In the McGary Cup event, Sunday, Wenger broke twenty-three out of twenty-five to clinch this award.

A total of 1,600 days were trapped off during the day.

SEA FLEA RACES THRILL FANS

After having been called upon to meet and overcome, in succession, such well-known lawn bowling experts as E. Forrest and Dave Dewar, of the Victoria Club; W. Gibson and T. Deveson, Burnside; T. Renfrew and A. Marconini, Victoria; H. M. Wright and A. McKeachie, Victoria; and T. Mayne and J. Roeside, members of their own organization, the Canadian Pacific Club, D. C. Hughes and J. Johnston carried off the honors of the contest for possession of the Yarrow Cup, emblematic of the doubles championship of Vancouver Island, which was staged on the greens of the Canadian Pacific Club on Saturday and Labor Day.

Throughout the competition there was witnessed, what has been termed by those present, the best exhibition of the ancient game yet seen in the city. This, in great part, can be accounted for by the fact that splendid weather conditions prevailed, but more especially because of the splendid condition in which the competitors found the playing greens. In this respect it may be stated that those who had the privilege of using the greens, were unanimous in their praise of the conditions under which the contest was staged, declaring the greens were the best to be found on the Pacific Coast.

The Yarrow Cup, the trophy which was so keenly sought, was presented to those who had the honor of winning the doubles championship of Vancouver Island. At the conclusion of the games, President P. Harris, of the C.P.R. Club, called competitors and visitors together for the official presentation of prizes, and after expressing the appreciation of himself and his club upon the splendid response of competitors, called upon A. B. McNeill, president of Greater Victoria District Bowling Association, to officiate. Mr. McNeill, in a brief speech, expressed his appreciation of the splendid outcome of the annual gathering.

That Body of Yours

PSORIASIS CURED BY FAT FREE DIET

One of the skin ailments that discourages both patient and physician is psoriasis--white scaly patches like mortar on the skin which, when the scales are peeled off leave a bleeding surface.

Just what causes this ailment has never been discovered. By using arsenic internally (Fowler's solution) and ammoniated mercury on the scaly patches, most cases clear up in time, only to break out again perhaps in a few months.

That "nervousness" may be a factor is admitted by many skin specialists, as also is the possibility of some gland disturbances in the body.

Thus the manner in which the body processes handle some foods may be at fault, as leaving out certain foods from the diet has cleared up a number of cases.

Some research men have found that it is during the cold weather that this skin ailment gets worse, and point out that psoriasis does not exist in the tropics.

Drs. O. Gruts and M. Burger, Berlin, relate some of their studies which tend to show that the underlying cause of psoriasis is probably a disturbance in the way in which the body uses the fat foods--cream, butter, fat meat.

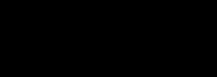

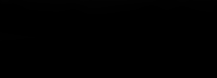

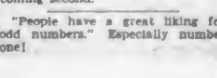

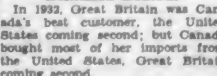

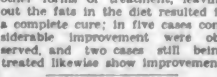

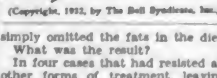

Psoriasis may be due to the blood vessels of the skin allowing too much fat to be poured out on the surface of the skin, or because the form in which the fat reaches the skin is so altered that irritation arises.

In any case as it is the fats that cause the trouble, cutting down on the fats should be good treatment. To provide this Drs. Gruts and Burger stopped all other forms of treatment in eleven cases, and
